

The following pages are taken from the diaries of warden's who have stayed on the island, documenting the wildlife and the changing seasons.